

'Zuleika'
PIANO SELECTION

Lyrics by
James Ferman
& Maurice Holt
Music by
Peter Tranchell

Arranged by Peter Tranchell for sale at performances by the Cambridge University Musical Comedy Club in the Cambridge Arts Theatre
October – November 1954
(This is not the selection arranged by Felton Rapley published by Chappell after the 1955 London run.)

© Cambridge University Library

Published with the permission of the Syndics of the Cambridge University Library

Classmark MR260.c.95.1

<https://peter-tranchell.uk/>

from the programme for the Cambridge performances:

MUSICAL NUMBERS

		ACT I.
Scene 1.	" Eights Week "		Chorus
	" Oxford, City of Repose "		Dorset and Chorus
	" Nobody Gives A Rap "		Marraby, MacQuern, Sayes, Trent-Garby and Noaks
	*" Zuleika "		Undergraduates
	*" My Travels "		Zuleika
	" A Lovely Time "		Zuleika and Undergraduates
	Reprise : " Zuleika "		Undergraduates
Scene 2.	*" The Man for Me "		Zuleika
Scene 3.	" Life Without Love "		Dorset
	" Just a Mother at Heart "		Mrs. Batch
	" Dorset's Proposal "		Dorset
	Reprise : " Life Without Love "		Dorset
Scene 4.	" Nellie O'Mora "		MacQuern and the Junta
Scene 5.	" Anything Can Happen "		Zuleika
	*" The Last Dance "		MacQuern and Chorus
	Reprise : " Life Without Love "		Dorset

		ACT II.
Scene 1.	" What Has She Got "		Six Girls
Scene 2.	*" Always Be Wary of Women "		Dorset and Noaks
	*" Someday "		Katie
	*" All Over Again "		Zuleika and Dorset
Scene 3.	*" Follow the Fashion "		Marraby, Sayes and Chorus
	" All for Love "		Zuleika
Scene 4.	" Seventeen Years from Now "		Noaks
	Reprise : " Someday "		Katie
	" Just One Year and Maybe "		Mrs. Batch
Scene 5.	" My Youth "		The Warden
Scene 6.	" Cambridge, City of Repose "		Chorus
	Reprise : " Zuleika "		Undergraduates
	Reprise : " All Over Again "		The Company

* Published in Piano Selection on Sale in the Theatre

Lyric for " Nellie O'Mora " by Harry Porter.
Lyric for " All Over Again " by Maurice Holt.

THE ORCHESTRAS

Conductor: PETER TRANCHELL

Assistant Conductor: ALAN VENING

1st Week :		2nd Week :
Roger Norrington	} Violins }	David Stone
John Davies		Julian Webb
Peter Renshaw		Alan Warren
Peter James		Jonathan Fairn
John Tyldesley		Peter Phillips
Gillian Chadwick		Helen Levy
Jennifer Crawley		Edward Munir
Nicholas Steinitz		John Maurice
Charles Gane		David Roseveare
John Jones or Alan Smith		David Jones
Richard Lloyd	Colin Nicholls
Trevor Tyson	Alan Hakim
Alan Vening	Piano	Peter Stroud

Lyrics by
James Fermin
& Maurice Holt

“ZULEIKA”

Piano Selection

Music by Peter Tranchell

Maestoso

f

“FOLLOW THE FASHION”

Young Ox-ford fol-lows the fash -

ten. allegro moderato

mf

- ion where - ev-er the fash - - ion leads. Young Ox-ford fol-lows the fash - - ion from ev'n-ing at - ti - - re to golf - ing tweeds.

Young Ox-ford nurs-es a pass - - ion for ap-ing the el - - e-gant few

Peo-ple say "Fol-low the fash-ion!" What can we do — but fol-low the fash - - ion too!

THE LAST DANCE
Tempo di Valse

The last dance of the eve - ning will be lost like a dream with the dawn — A last poco ten. poco ten.

chance past re - triev - ing. When the cares of the day are re - born. — Ah, then we'll sigh for the love — we loved, vain hopes that we knew — but con amore

one dance be-fore leav - ing — and the dreams we have dreamed will come

Musical score for the first system, featuring piano accompaniment for the lyrics 'one dance be-fore leav - ing — and the dreams we have dreamed will come'. The score is written in G minor and 3/4 time, with a piano (p) dynamic marking.

true; the last dance of the eve - ning — is the last dance we Musical score for the second system, featuring piano accompaniment for the lyrics 'true; the last dance of the eve - ning — is the last dance we'. The score is written in G minor and 3/4 time, with a piano (p) dynamic marking.

dance with you. —

ZULEIKA'S TRAVELS

Allegretto grazioso

Musical score for the third system, featuring piano accompaniment for the lyrics 'dance with you. —' and the section title 'ZULEIKA'S TRAVELS Allegretto grazioso'. The score is written in G minor and 3/4 time, with a piano (p) dynamic marking.

1. When I went to Pa - ris I was fêt - ed by a ver - y rich Mar -
2. Or - chids from the Sul - tan seemed in - vit - ing so I went to Is - tam -

Musical score for the fourth system, featuring piano accompaniment for the lyrics '1. When I went to Pa - ris I was fêt - ed by a ver - y rich Mar - 2. Or - chids from the Sul - tan seemed in - vit - ing so I went to Is - tam -'. The score is written in G minor and 3/4 time, with a piano (p) dynamic marking.

-quis. Soon the de - mi-monde was quite out - dat - ed,
-bul Where I was be-sieged with quite ex - cit - ing

Musical score for the fifth system, featuring piano accompaniment for the lyrics '-quis. Soon the de - mi-monde was quite out - dat - ed, -bul Where I was be-sieged with quite ex - cit - ing'. The score is written in G minor and 3/4 time, with a piano (p) dynamic marking.

ev'-ry-thing was bought for me.
rub-ies by the buck-et - et - ful.

Neck - la - ces from Car-tier's, gowns from Fi - fi's,
I was on - ly too con - tent to wear them

Musical notation for the first system, including vocal line and piano accompaniment. The piano part features a steady eighth-note accompaniment in the bass line and chords in the treble line.

real-ly they were much too kind!
till I gath-ered what it means

I could ne-ver dare re - fuse them, or the shar-ing an ex-clus-ive ha - rem, with a Musical notation for the second system, including vocal line and piano accompaniment. The piano part continues with the eighth-note accompaniment and chordal support.

Gov - ern - ment re - signed!
hun - dred o - ther queens!

In Ber - lin I had a ver - y pret - ty
Then the men in charm - ing old Vi - en - na,

Musical notation for the third system, including vocal line and piano accompaniment. Dynamics markings f and mf are present. The piano part features a steady eighth-note accompaniment.

of - fer from the Kai - ser.
how they all a - dored me!

My re - fus - al left the Ger - man ci - ty Boy so - pran - os start - ed sing - ing te - nor,

Musical notation for the fourth system, including vocal line and piano accompaniment. Dynamics markings mp and p are present. The piano part continues with the eighth-note accompaniment.

sad - der but wis - er!
moth - ers de - plored me!

It - a - ly in May was so ro - mant - ic.
When I got to Mos - cow in Dec - em - ber

Musical notation for the fifth system, including vocal line and piano accompaniment. Dynamics markings v and mf are present. The piano part continues with the eighth-note accompaniment.

Ev' - ry - bo - dy loved me there, till I con - jured up a ra - ther frant - ic they were in a win - ter storm. All the Russ - ian princ - es, I re - mem - ber,

Musical notation for the first system, including vocal line and piano accompaniment. The piano part features a steady eighth-note accompaniment in the bass clef.

ri - ot in St. Pe - ter's Square. Think - ing me a dan - ger ho - ly fa - thers want - ed me to keep them warm. Ev - en on my vis - it to the Krem - lin,

Musical notation for the second system, including vocal line and piano accompaniment. The piano part continues with the eighth-note accompaniment.

thought they'd put a stop to that! But they had not bar - gained on the tête - a - tête - ing with the Czar, he was bent on show - ing me the Musical notation for the third system, including vocal line and piano accompaniment. The piano part features a steady eighth-note accompaniment. Dynamics include mf and rit.

men of Rome and the pap al bull fell flat.
Russ - ian Steppes but he went - one step - too far.

Musical notation for the fourth system, including vocal line and piano accompaniment. The piano part features a steady eighth-note accompaniment. Dynamics include a tempo, p, and f.

“SOMEDAY”
Moderato semplice

Some - day he may, someday he might grant me the dream that I am

Musical notation for the fifth system, including vocal line and piano accompaniment. The piano part features a steady eighth-note accompaniment. Dynamics include mf and mp.

dream-ing. May-be to-day, may-be to-night, things may be bright-er than they're seem-ing.

Musical score for the first system, featuring a vocal line and piano accompaniment. The vocal line is in treble clef, and the piano accompaniment is in bass clef. The music is in a 4/4 time signature and a key signature of one flat (B-flat major). The vocal line consists of a series of eighth and quarter notes, with some notes beamed together. The piano accompaniment features a steady eighth-note bass line and chords in the right hand.

Wheth-er or not— I stand a chance with him, there is a lot— that I can pray for.

Musical score for the second system, featuring a vocal line and piano accompaniment. The vocal line is in treble clef, and the piano accompaniment is in bass clef. The music is in a 4/4 time signature and a key signature of one flat (B-flat major). The vocal line consists of a series of eighth and quarter notes, with some notes beamed together. The piano accompaniment features a steady eighth-note bass line and chords in the right hand. There are triplets in the piano part and a rit. marking at the end.

Some-day he may, someday he might think ra-ther sweet-ly of me, some day.

Musical score for the third system, featuring a vocal line and piano accompaniment. The vocal line is in treble clef, and the piano accompaniment is in bass clef. The music is in a 4/4 time signature and a key signature of one flat (B-flat major). The vocal line consists of a series of eighth and quarter notes, with some notes beamed together. The piano accompaniment features a steady eighth-note bass line and chords in the right hand. There are a tempo and ten. markings.

“ZULEIKA” There’s no girl in the world like Zu - lei - ka, — there’s no o - ther so Musical score for the fourth system, featuring a vocal line and piano accompaniment. The vocal line is in treble clef, and the piano accompaniment is in bass clef. The music is in a 3/4 time signature and a key signature of two flats (B-flat major). The vocal line consists of a series of quarter notes. The piano accompaniment features a steady eighth-note bass line and chords in the right hand. There is a f marking.

love-ly as she. — All the world is in love with Zu - lei - ka, — all the Musical score for the fifth system, featuring a vocal line and piano accompaniment. The vocal line is in treble clef, and the piano accompaniment is in bass clef. The music is in a 3/4 time signature and a key signature of two flats (B-flat major). The vocal line consists of a series of quarter notes. The piano accompaniment features a steady eighth-note bass line and chords in the right hand. There is a p marking.

world has good reas-on to be. There's no creat-ure so fair as Zu - lei - ka,

The first system of music consists of a vocal line and a piano accompaniment. The vocal line is written in a treble clef with a key signature of three flats and a common time signature. It begins with a series of chords and then moves to a melodic line. The piano accompaniment is written in a bass clef and features a steady rhythm of eighth notes. A dynamic marking of f (forte) is placed above the piano part.

- ev'-ry feat-ure so rare and re - fined. The Cle-o - pat - ras of the past will be for -

The second system of music continues the vocal line and piano accompaniment. The vocal line features a melodic phrase that ends with a fermata. The piano accompaniment continues with its eighth-note pattern. Dynamic markings include mf (mezzo-forte) and p (piano).

-got - ten at the last, she's left them com - plete-ly be - hind. With one ac -

The third system of music continues the vocal line and piano accompaniment. The vocal line features a melodic phrase that ends with a fermata. The piano accompaniment continues with its eighth-note pattern. A dynamic marking of mf (mezzo-forte) is placed above the piano part.

-cord we all be - lieve, that when the Lord cre-a-ted Eve, he had on - ly Zu -

The fourth system of music continues the vocal line and piano accompaniment. The vocal line features a melodic phrase that ends with a fermata. The piano accompaniment continues with its eighth-note pattern. Dynamic markings include cresc. (crescendo), sempre rall al fine (always slowing down to the end), sfz (sforzando), and ff (fortissimo).

-lei-ka in mind. "THE MAN FOR ME" I've ne-ver found the Moderato ten. Allegretto

p legato

man I'd marr-y al-tho' I've sailed the se-ven seas. I've had so ma-ny sui-tors I've re-fused them by the score, be-cause I've nev-er met the ten.

man I could a-dore. I've cher-ished such a sec-ret long-ing, for poco ten.

rall. a tempo

some-one ra-ther hard to please,

for some-one strong and mast-er-ful and Musical notation for the first system, including vocal line and piano accompaniment. The key signature has one flat (Bb) and the time signature is 3/4. The piano part features a steady bass line with chords in the right hand.

bru-tal* as can be, oh, that's the kind of man for me!

Musical notation for the second system, including vocal line and piano accompaniment. The key signature changes to two flats (Bb, Eb) and the time signature changes to 3/4. The piano part continues with a similar accompaniment style.

“ALWAYS BE WARY OF WOMEN”

Allegro Moderato

Al-ways be wa-ry of wo-men,_____

Musical notation for the third system, including vocal line and piano accompaniment. The key signature has two flats (Bb, Eb) and the time signature is 3/4. The piano part features a steady bass line with chords in the right hand.

Ev'-ry one's af-ter a man._____

Wo-men will tease you and dare you___ and en - snare you,_____

Musical notation for the fourth system, including vocal line and piano accompaniment. The key signature has two flats (Bb, Eb) and the time signature is 3/4. The piano part continues with a similar accompaniment style.

__ if they can._____

Once they have won your af-fect-ion_____

They'll have the whale of a Musical notation for the fifth system, including vocal line and piano accompaniment. The key signature has two flats (Bb, Eb) and the time signature is 3/4. The piano part continues with a similar accompaniment style.

* perhaps nowadays better 'bullish' or 'brutish' fling _____ and while you are pay-ing, they'll just go on play-ing with you on the end of a string.

Musical score for the first system. The vocal line is in a treble clef with a key signature of two flats and a common time signature. The piano accompaniment is in a bass clef with the same key signature and time signature. The music consists of a single melodic line in the voice and a complex accompaniment in the piano.

“ALL OVER AGAIN”

Maestoso

Skies of grey may

ten.

Musical score for the second system. The vocal line is in a treble clef with a key signature of two flats and a common time signature. The piano accompaniment is in a bass clef with the same key signature and time signature. The music consists of a single melodic line in the voice and a complex accompaniment in the piano. Dynamics include ff and f.

dull the day but then some ray breaks through all ov-er a - gain. Ho -

Musical score for the third system. The vocal line is in a treble clef with a key signature of two flats and a common time signature. The piano accompaniment is in a bass clef with the same key signature and time signature. The music consists of a single melodic line in the voice and a complex accompaniment in the piano. Dynamics include ff and f. There are triplets in both the vocal and piano parts.

-ri - zons are bright and hearts be-come light for dreams of love were not in vain.

Musical score for the fourth system. The vocal line is in a treble clef with a key signature of two flats and a common time signature. The piano accompaniment is in a bass clef with the same key signature and time signature. The music consists of a single melodic line in the voice and a complex accompaniment in the piano. Dynamics include ff and f. There are triplets in both the vocal and piano parts.

Win-ter may seem here to stay but soon gives way to spring all o-ver amp

-gain. Just as the sun must soon o-ver-run the rain.

mf dolce

Then hearts will start to glow, melt-ing like win-ter's

f p snow.

Some-where a new star is born.

cresc. f

Night has changed to dawn. Hopes once high may seem to die but sempre cresc / sfz rall ff

time goes by and now the doubt-ing is past at last.

sfz sfz

Fate is de - feat - ed, Hist' - ry's re - peat - ed too for love will live what - p

-ev - er love may do.

rall al fine

Zuleika

by Peter Tranchell

'The Musical Comedy Club at Cambridge was established by Leslie Bricusse and Freddie Raphael in 1952 or 53, as a vehicle that would enable them to stage their musical "Lady at the Wheel" at the Arts Theatre. The unspeakable James Ferman appeared on the scene [from New York] at about this time and soon hooked on to the lovelorn Monica Beament. This gave him access to Peter who disliked him from the start. Why, then, did Peter get entangled with Ferman's Zuleika book and agree, certainly by early 1954, to write the score? He did so against his better judgment and made no secret to me of his misgivings. (Ferman is dead so we can speak freely.) I can only conclude that Peter thought he could knock the book and lyrics into shape and turn out a sparkling musical. Had that happened, his career might have taken a very different path - one that I think had attractions for him at that point. In the event the Caius fellowship came up and he became a Cambridge institution. But given his huge talent and lively persona, the story of English musical theatre in the 1970s and 80s might have been so much less dreary.'

(from a note written in 2007 by Maurice Holt, who was involved in the production and contributed a lyric)

1954 was, musically, another busy year for Peter Tranchell. In 1953 he was promoted to full lecturer in the Faculty of Music with the concomitant lecturing responsibilities; he had written Friendly Grotesques, 'four amusing & witty piano duets', was toying with another opera (which never saw the light of day), had to write some emergency numbers for the Footlights Revue, music had to be produced for the Cambridge Pageant for coronation year and the annual pantomime at Windsor. 1954 saw the writing and production of Daisy Simpkins with (most of the) words by Harry Porter of Corpus, and then (from a letter home of 22 July 54):

Now the next problem is Zuleika Dobson. We are having a bit of difficulty in finding a suitable girl to play the lead. Also the orchestra is backward in coming forward. Unfortunately the budget is such that we can't pay the instrumentalists, - so naturally they're not very keen. The librettist has almost finished Act I, but the other act won't be ready for a bit. I can see myself working under pressure of time again, dammit, - which is boring, although I think I'm capable of it. I shall have to stay here all the summer.

Zuleika is pronounced both ways, as far as I can see, but we are favouring in this production the pronunciation to rhyme with "like". I have written a delicious valse theme for the score, & am very pleased. But progress is slow. I have 18 more "hit-tunes" to write for the show. Only about 50 days to do it in, before preliminary rehearsals begin. "40 days & 40 nights, - lone & weary, dark & dreary." I forget the hymn, but it describes the ordeal I am now embarking upon.

14 Nov 54

You will be wanting to hear all about Zuleika. Of course the shouting is over, but the sweeping-up is by no means ended. I am still immersed in the back-wash of the thing, - innumerable bits of business to be tied up. And academic life still to be carried on.

The show itself was a failure, to my mind, & deserved the hostile press it got. Where kind words have been said, you may suspect the discrimination of the speaker. I feel extremely disgruntled at the way in which a good opportunity with good ingredients was thrown away through pig-headed & stubborn ignorance. Every piece of advice I gave was disregarded & I had to throw several major tantrums to get my own way with the music. I proved in the event to be right all along the line & every miscalculation was one of the librettist-producer's*. In spite of Dadie Rylands' pleas, in spite of mine, the show ran 3¼ hours on the first night, of which an hour was music. The rest was the most uninspired, un-funny, incredibly unsuitable dialogue, - which was held together only by the actors. The first Act lasted an hour & fifty minutes. Everyone became bored. Each new song was a kick in the stomach to the audience, already fatigued, & every new stretch of suet-like dialogue was an addition to their exhaustion. Naturally the main actors were given ill-favoured notices, naturally the music was stigmatised. The funny man of the show[†] was the only one to survive, because he could be funny (though it was his acting, not his lines that were funny.) I did not receive the libretto till the 1st August, so that I was obliged to write some 36 sections of music in 30 days, & then orchestrate them & copy bits for the soloists to learn, & for the choreographer to work out her routines from. It was a nightmare. I was promised the script in June, & was kept waiting by various forms of deceit on the part of the librettist, because he knew I could work under pressure if pushed. Irresponsible skunk! He took advantage of my abilities with a rare unscrupulousness, – & entered into the Marlowe Summer Production (without my knowledge, of course) – which delayed him a further six weeks. The result was a great loss of sleep on my part, – & I was still orchestrating when rehearsals began. Thus I was unable to be present as often as I would have wished, – & the production-side of the show was deplorable. I could do nothing about it. The dress rehearsal ran from 2 pm to 1 a.m. on the Sunday 24th Oct. The cast were almost in tears. They only got one meal – sent in tepid to the theatre during this time - & were kept at it all the time. Cuts had to be made, cuts that I had pleaded for – for months. Bits of music had to go, so that a previously well balanced & varied score lost some of its freshness, by the loss of one or two wittier pieces of music. The show was still too long. The Producer was incredibly intransigent. I have never met such crass ignorance. He did no research into the period (about 1907) & the production as a result was dismally lacking in taste or tang. I cannot finish this Jeremiad now, but there is miles of yarn to tell you. But business intervenes.

* James Ferman

Despite all these difficulties, Peter was optimistic about the prospects for a professional London run of Zuleika (“During the second week of the Cambridge Production of Zuleika it was clear that the Show was a success, and there had been seven applications for its purchase”), and was hopeful of profits/royalties so he turned himself into a limited company to mitigate any possible tax bills. Zuleika eventually went on a provincial tour in 1957, starting in Manchester before a run at the Savile Theatre: “The money earned from Zuleika has been largely eaten up in the expense of attending upon it during the birthpangs, which was considerable. I must have travelled to London several hundred times in the last two years, solely about the show.” After all this Peter had no involvement once the production finally opened – without the original director, Peter Hall, but with the music orchestrated and conducted by Charles Mackerras, sets by Osbert Lancaster, and Zuleika (initially) performed by Diane Cilento until she feigned an attempted suicide at Oxford so she could run off to join her new lover in Palermo... Chappell had such high hopes of it that they commissioned an arrangement for brass band ‘so the hit tunes could be played on all the bandstands in London’ and easy-to-play versions of some of the songs from Felton Rapley, a well-known arranger and theatre organist of the time.

Peter found the whole business so vexing that he wrote a long no-holds-barred account for his parents entitled ‘Zuleika Saga’ which is included in the Collected Letters.

Note by John Gwinnell

[†] Peter Woodthorpe. finishing his first year at Magdalene. The following year he was a sensation as Estragon in Peter Hall’s production of Waiting for Godot and abandoned Cambridge for the professional stage. He reprised the role of Noaks in the London run of Zuleika, the only survivor of the Cambridge production.