REFRAIN

In those days of my first craze for meet-ing you in Lov-ers'

Lane, I nev-er dared to try ex - plain my dream of Heav-en for two.

Weeks went past, and then at last, I thought I'd tell you what I'd planned, but you re-fused to un - der - stand my scheme for Heav - en with you. It was a sad par-ting we had; you were so ter-rib-ly un-con-cerned; and there was I read-y to cry; my les-son was learned; my love un-re-turned. Now I'm old, my heart's grown cold, because you would-n't an-swer Yes, but ev-en so I still poss-ess that dream of

1. Heav-en for Two. 2. Heav-en for Two. Fine

VERSE

Youth's gay mo-ments are soon o - ver; Cas - tles in the air soon fade.

Dis - app - oint-ments cast for ev - er their heart - chill - ing shade.

I can tell the same old sto - ry: Love was new, hopes high; For

D.S. al Fine

when you smiled, my heart went wild; that mem-o-ry can nev-er die.
